OLIVER MAY, who has been leader of the Edmonton Fire Brigade Band for a year and a half, leaves on to-morrow's train for Stonewall, Manitoba, where he has been offered very good inducements to take the leadership of the band there. During his leadership the fire brigade band was brought to a very high pitch of excellence, creditable to the members and to their leader, and as well a credit and pleasure to the town. It is very much to be regretted that his services could not have been retained in Edmonton, for besides being a successful leader he is an excellent cornet player and very good all around musician and exemplary citizen. He has the best wishes of everyone in Edmonton for his success wherever he may be. Since his arrival in Edmonton from England, Mr. May and his friend Mr. Clark have been a very great attraction at most of the musical events that have taken place since. They have been associated in playing for the past eleven years. On Tuesday night at the band concert was probably the last occasion on which they will play together.

J. C. SNELL, of Edmonton, and J. Sissons of Barrie, Ont., arrived on Monday's train to pay a short visit to Edmonton. Mr. Snell is one of the firm of John Snell's sons, famous throughout Canada as breeders of short horn cattle, their father being the pioneer breeder of short horns in Ontario. Mr. Snell is judge of cattle at the Regina exhibition. They had very little time at their disposal but desiring to see as much of the Territories as possible, felt it necessary to take at least a glimpse at Edmonton. They drove during the evening and expressed themselves as surprised and delighted with what they saw. The rich soil, the lumber and coal and the evidences of prosperous and advanced civilization at such a—to them—remote and northern point, struck them particularly and they promised to give Edmonton a good name where ever they went in future. They had already visited Southern Alberta, which as a purely stock country they believed to be unexcelled. But for farming as it is carried on in Ontario, they found Edmonton the ideal district of the Territories. Speaking of crops in Ontario they said that this season they were very poor, amounting to a failure in many places. They left for Regina on Tuesday's train.

In view of the possibility of a change in the way of expending public works money in the Territories at the approaching session of the Assembly, the members have been notified to bring to the Assembly estimates of works which affect more than one township, such as main roads leading to markets and bridges. Miscellaneous works within a township will likely be done under the statute labor and fire district ordinance.

THE last Canada Gazette announces that the southwest quarter of section 10, township 50, range 25 west of the 4th meridian near Leduc has been sold to Mrs. Maria A. Heath at $1.00 an acre. The cause of the special sale was that Mrs. Heath homesteaded the land on January 14th 1895 believing herself to be entitled to do so as the head of a family. The department decided that she was not technically entitled to homestead, but in order that her interests should not be prejudiced, the land was sold to her at a minimum price. A very good decision upon which the department of interior is to be congratulated.

THE attendance at the band concert on Tuesday night was fair, but not as large as the entertainment merited, or as the object, which was to help to pay for the new bass instrument purchased by the band, deserved.

THE following was the programme rendered: "Dream Memories," by the band. Song, "Happy Three," F. D. Fortin. Cornet solo, "Scottish Gems," Oliver May with accompaniment by Miss Phillips, encore.

Song, "Esmeralda," Mrs. Hockley, encore. "To-morrow won't do," Violin solo, Hungarian Dances," Miss E. A. Andrews.

Song, "The Hostess' Daughter," A. G. Randall. Quartette, "Rondo," Miss E. Andrews piano, Miss E. A. Andrews violin, Mr. May violin, Mr. Boyle cello.

Fencing exhibition, Messrs De Roux and Negroni. Song, "Cherry ripe," Miss E. A. Andrews. Piano solo, Miss E. Andrews. Cornet duet, "Field day," Messrs. May and Clark, encore, Mr. Boyle accompanying. Song, "Love will last," Mrs. Hockley. Piano duet, Miss E. Andrews and Mr. F. H. Andrews, encore. Song, "The King's Minstrel," A. G. Randall.

They will be rendered forthwith and prompt payment is specially requested. IMMIGRATION.

It is a number of years since the announcement was made that it was not the policy of the Canadian government to encourage the removal of people from one part of the Dominion to another, or in other words that it was not a part of the government policy to assist emigration from the eastern provinces to the Western Territories. As a statement of policy this sounded very well, especially when it was coupled with the assurance that the Territories would be filled up with European immigrants, without depopulating the eastern provinces. While the people of the east were not to be induced to remove to the Northwest the national policy was to furnish them with such abundant employment and such high prices and wages that they were infallibly to be induced to remain in the east and increase and multiply there. Since this immigration policy was announced many things have occurred. The national policy has proved a fizzle as far as the general prosperity of the country was concerned. The European immigration has failed to connect. And the exodus of Canadians to the States went on more rapidly than ever for many years, filling up the Dakotas, Washington and Oregon, while the Northwest almost stood still. Of course it has suited many people in the past to deny these facts and many others to shut their eyes to them, but they are facts all the same. Owing to busted booms, change of seasons resulting in crop failures in the west, and other causes, the exodus from Eastern Canada to the States to a very great extent ceased, for a time. And the active immigration policy of the government was so far successful that it induced a very considerable number of Canadians who had gone to the States from the eastern provinces to return to Canada by settling in the Northwest Territories—chiefly in Northern Alberta. But we are evidently face to face with another change of conditions. Business in the States is reviving and crops are said to be good in the northern tier of States which have attracted so many Canadian immigrants. At the same time Ontario, which is the chief agricultural province of Eastern Canada is suffering severely from a failure of crop owing to drought, which means without doubt that between now and next year at this time the sheriff will be getting in his work in good shape throughout the length and breadth of the province. At the same time the United States immigration agent can be depended upon not to be idle. Already indeed he is at work painting the prairies of Dakota in all their old time brightness, and no doubt as in the past he will be successful in securing many settlers whom the hard times will squeeze out of Ontario who could do much better for themselves and better for the country by settling in the Territories. It is not too much to say that such settlers as these are the most desirable, industrially, socially and politically, that the Territories can secure. Their coming to the Northwest, as compared to their going to the States, would be of vast benefit to the eastern provinces. Then why should not the policy of ignoring or discouraging immigration from the provinces to the Territories be abandoned in favor of a policy which shall have for its first plank not so much the keeping of Canada for the Canadians as the keeping of Canadians for Canada. This country's loss of Canadians in the past ten years has been greater than its gain of foreigners. Then why not turn our attention to the direction of the movement from the eastern provinces, which in the nature of things must go on as long as there is a fertile West to which to go, from the States and towards the Territories and Manitoba. Our crops are better this season than those of the adjoining States, our natural advantages are greater. But all this is of no avail if cheap rates and special inducements are held out to our own people to go to the States while they cannot get like chances to come to the Northwest. Under our present immigration policy everybody or anybody is offered special inducements to make his home in the Northwest except the Canadian. It is not asked that Canadians be granted special advantages, but it will strike most people that in their own country they should have at least equal advantages with others. It is to be hoped that a new policy will be adopted in regard to the Northwest both by the government, that greater than the government—the railway company, and the leading people of the east; a policy which shall recognize the Northwest as that part of the Dominion upon whose success the success of the whole depends. That people who came to the Northwest are not lost to the Dominion but rather by their coming here and their opportunities being thereby widened they are more valuable workers than in the east. If the farmer with a given amount of labor and capital can produce more value in the west than in the east—and he certainly can—then he is a more valuable citizen here than there and in the general interest should be encouraged to come here.

THE Macleod Gazette of its most recent issue has a long article to prove that the conservative and not the liberal party are the friends of the mounted police. That in fact if the liberal party got in power the last state of the police force would be worse than its first. It is not necessary to point out here how lofty an ideal of the duties of a voter is taught by the argument of the Gazette. It evidently expects that the police will base their votes on its interpretation of their personal interests and not on the interests of the country. It hopes to scare them into voting against what the Gazette knows are the best interests of the country. This surely is not the same Gazette which only a few months ago was shattering the atmosphere of Southern Alberta with complaints as to the treatment accorded individual members of the force, both men and officers. Or perhaps those complaints and the resolutions passed by a mass meeting in Macleod were all a mistake. If the Gazette would give a lucid explanation of the reasons for the transfer of its attack from the party that is responsible to the party that is not responsible its arguments might have more weight. This perpetual cry of "wolf" against the party in opposition may have been good tactics at one time. It has from time to time been used to frighten almost every special interest in the country into support of the party in power. But it is getting stale. When people are face to face with rank injustice, some new scheme will have to be struck to keep them from doing what they may to protect themselves.

The number of murders perpetrated to secure life insurance money has increased very greatly of late years with the spread of life insurance, and at last a man named Holmes has been arrested who appears to have made a business of insurance and murder, the number of victims so far charged to his account being eight or nine, with the possibility of very many more. The BULLETIN will not presume to argue as the financial or moral questions involved in life insurance where the amount of the insurance is in proportion to the means of the person insured and where the beneficiary is dependent during his, her or their life or lives upon the life and labor of the insured. But it firmly believes that life insurance under any other circumstances is evidence on its face that there is either a misunderstanding or a wrong intention somewhere, and that it should not be allowed. When life insurance is used as a basis for wholesale murder as in the case of Holmes, it is time that its various features and their various effects were made the subject of careful enquiry.

A NEW N. P.

Free Press.

Canadians, in their patriotic eulogies of the grand design to bind the Canadian provinces into one powerful consolidation, sometimes speak of confederation as a thing of the past. Now, as a matter of fact, though the Dominion of Canada has been ushered into existence and has passed the period of lusty youth, confederation has made only a beginning. To change the metaphor, those statesmen who framed Canada's constitution laid but the foundations, on which this and other generations of Canadians will build. If the public men of 1867 were the architects, the men of to day are the builders of confederation.

Without becoming entangled in partisan meshes as to the merits or demerits of Canadian fiscal policies for the past fifteen years, every thinking man must acknowledge that the development of the Dominion is, to put it moderately, exceedingly slow. This is especially true of the western half of Canada. Though fertile land is almost illimitable, and the riches of forest, mine and stream are incalculable; yet the population between Ontario and the Pacific Ocean numbers one hundred thousand less than the comparatively small province of Nova Scotia; while out of the explored and fertile parts of Western Canada could be carved forty Nova Scotias. This of itself, should make clear, that unless there be some change in the policy of Canadian administrations, which will effect as rapid progress in the west as in the east, the Dominion is in danger of becoming a very lopsided edifice.

Unfortunately there is a tendency among eastern journals and public men to regard the demands of the west with jealousy; and such a tendency shows short-sighted wisdom. Eastern manufacturers must find their markets in the west; and every additional immigrant will swell the demand for articles manufactured in Ontario and Quebec. Had the manufacturers to relinquish privileges, or to make concessions in order to aid the development of Manitoba and the Territories, he would be rewarded a hundred fold by increased demands for the output of his own industry. The west and the east are bound by ties stronger than sections of any parliamentary act. They are bound by unity of interests. When Manitoba and the Northwest number their farmers by millions, Montreal and Toronto will rank in industrial greatness with New York and Chicago. Fully realizing that the interests of all the provinces are interlinked, Canadians will hail as a prophet the statesman who propounds and carries to successful accomplishment a policy to fill Western Canada with immigrants. Needless to say, by immigrants, the Free Press means neither the criminal nor the useless.

In 1896, there will be a rebound from the depression, now in its last stages. What better time to inaugurate a new policy, an immigration crusade? The politician who sees and seizes the opportunity, to give impetus to national progress by turning a current of immigration westward, is the leader to whom Canadians will readily entrust the reins of government.

An order-in-council has been passed on the recommendation of the minister of interior, authorizing the leasing for grazing purposes of the school lands in Manitoba at six cents per acre per annum.

Gen. Herbert's resignation has been received at Ottawa and accepted. The most probable successor will be Colonel Gascoigne, commanding officer of the Scotch Grenadier Guards and at present D. A. G. of the military district of London. In the English volunteer service he served with the guards in Egypt, and was present at Tel El Keber and Suakin.

Duluth crop estimates place the yield of wheat at not less than 140,000,000 bushels for Minnesota and the two Dakotas, while there are many who believe it will run over 175,000,000 bushels. In some quarters there is considerable doubt as to what the quality of the yield will be for reports indicate that the straw is unusually heavy but a period of warm weather will remedy this and allow the heads to fill out to a quality as good as that of last year's crop.

The following is a dispatch regarding the Indian uprising in Idaho, dated July 25th: "According to the reports received in Crater this evening the Indians that in all have been killed are five bucks, one squaw and one papoose. No white men have been killed; the settlers have not been disturbed. The only threats made by the Indians were when the whites were attempting to arrest them. The Indians killed were among a party just arrested and were shot while trying to escape. There is no doubt this has put the bucks in an angry temper. Many of the sensational dispatches sent east from this and neighboring towns are the purest fabrications, and ridiculous to any one who knows the situation here. The Indians are not half as likely to take to the war path as are the whites, and the settlers at Jackson's Hole are not the kind of men who become alarmed over the presence of a few Indians."

LEDUC PIC-NIC.

A basket picnic was held at Leduc on Wednesday last, which was a grand success in every particular. The attendance was over 200. About 20 came from Wetaskiwin and the same number from South Edmonton. An excellent lunch, furnished by the ladies of Leduc was served on the picnic grounds at 2 p. m. At 2:30 the Leduc and Wetaskiwin base ball teams met on the ball ground and played a friendly game, which resulted in favor of the Leducians by 11 to 6. At this juncture Mr. Lemon, the South Edmonton photographer, appeared on the scene with his camera and took a photo of the players, and afterwards of the pic-nickers in a general group. The South Edmonton base ball team and the Leduc boys then played another game, which resulted in favor of the home team by 7 to 5, the Leduc team in both of those contests I must say owing to their meagre practice and it being their initial game made a very creditable showing and deserve unbounded credit both in regards to behavior and skill. After this match the crowd reassembled on the picnic grounds and danced and swung till sunset. Then through the kindness and at the suggestion of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson they hastened to the hotel where they were greeted with a beautiful spread for supper. The tables and other furniture were removed from the dining room, and dancing started again with renewed vigor and unceasingly continued till the break of day, then after thanking their kind host and winning hostess for their creditable catering they repaired homeward, fully satisfied with their days enjoyment in Leduc. In conclusion I might say that in the management of this picnic there was but one oversight, that is Leduc's visiting parsons should have been invited to attend and give an address to the pic-nickers. The only excuse acceptable for this error is that we hope this mistake will not be repeated in future. In further conclusion your correspondent as representative of the picnic committee feels it incumbent to tender his many thanks to our visiting gentry from Wetaskiwin and South Edmonton, also to Mr. Bart King and his associate violinists for their classical music which was extolled by everybody; and last but not least to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson for the hospitable manner in which they threw open their doors and admitted the public free of cost.

HASTE.

July 29th, 1895.

BEAVER LAKE (EAST).

The first picnic of the Beaver Lake Presbyterian Sunday school was held in a grove on Duncan McCallister's farm on Wednesday, July 24th, and was an unqualified success. In addition to almost the entire population of the east side, the other settlements surrounding the lake were well represented. The weather was all that could be desired, and although the proverbial shower came along in the afternoon it did not damp the spirits of those present in the least. Dinner was served about 12 o'clock and was such as to reflect the greatest credit on the ladies of the district. After dinner a programme of speeches, songs, etc. was carried out, of which the following is a synopsis:

Part I.—Address by the chairman, Rev. Alex. Forbes, of Fort Saskatchewan; address by H. J. Stirling, Presbyterian missionary student; song, Geo. Asher; recitation, Hattie McCallum; song, Mr. Cookson; recitation, H. Bradley; violin solo, Alfred Whitford; address, Mr. Proctor.

Part II.—Races for boys of the Sunday school, 100 yards, ages 12 to 15 years: 1st, Duncan McCallum, sr.; 2nd, R. E. Steele. Ages 8 to 12 years: 1st, Jos. McCallum; 2nd, Gordon Steele. Free-for-all: 1st, E. Young; 2nd, Duncan McCallum, sr. Three-legged race: 1st, Jos. McCallum and R. E. Steele; 2nd, Duncan McCallum and Enard Young. Standing jump for boys of 12 to 15 years: 1st D. McCallum, sr.; 2nd, D. McCallum, jr. Standing jump for boys of 8 to 10 years: 1st, Jos. McCallum; 2nd, G. Steele. Free-for-all: 1st, Pierre Berard; 2nd, Enard Young. Running jump for boys of the school: 1st, D. McCallum, jr.; 2nd, Jos. McCallum. Free-for-all: 1st, James Hall; 2nd, Enard Young. Girls' race: 10 to 12 years, 1st, Lizzie McCallum; 2nd, Linette Young, 2nd. For little girls, 1st, Kitty McCallum; 2nd, Sarah Steele; 3rd, Mabel McCallum.

Part III.—Song, Geo. Smith; recitation, Nettie Asher; banjo solo, Mr. Black; song, Mr. Cookson; Cree hymn with violin accompaniment, Alf. Whitford. At the close Henry J. Daly in a humorous address moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, Mr. Forbes; the managing committee, Messrs. H. Bradley, Geo. Asher and Ira Ward; and the ladies. This was Mr. Forbes' first visit to the lake, but all hope it will not be the last.

GENERAL NEWS.

Italy is likely to have an Abyssinian war on her hands shortly.

Lethbridge sends a piece of coal weighing two tons to the Regina exhibition.

Prince Albert will grant exemption from taxation to the Hudson's Bay flouring mill in that town.

The Winnipeg Tribune figures that the extra session of parliament which will be held in January will cost the country $373,925 exclusive of travelling expenses, to members and all extras.

With all the constituencies except two heard from the new British house will consist of 333 conservatives, 70 Liberal Unionists, 164 Liberals, 65 anti-Parnellites, and 12 Parnellites, so that Salisbury's government has a plurality.

Winnipeg Tribune, July 25th: The special train of eastern excursionists is heavier in every way than at first reported, their being about 600 on board. It will arrive at 6:30, and the Glenboro and Deloraine branch trains will wait for it.

Two men named Lee and Patrick were struck by lightning recently near Stand Off, Southern Alberta. They were riding and both men and horses were rendered insensible. Lee and his horse were none the worse, but Patrick's horse was killed and he himself was badly injured, but will probably recover.

Winnipeg Tribune: The C. P. R. officials express themselves as being glad to hear that the city council have decided to make a move to endeavor to supply a portion of the extra labor required throughout the province. They say they have been trying in vain for several weeks past to get between 40 and 50 men to go out west and work on the road and that if there are unemployed men in the city it is the fault of the men entirely as the work is plenty but the laborers few.

An Ottawa dispatch, dated July 25, says: Nicholas Flood Davin, M. P., for Regina, one of the best known and most eloquent members of the Dominion house of commons, was married here very quietly this morning to Miss Lizzie Reid, daughter of James Reid, of Gloucester. Rev. Dr. Moore performed the ceremony, which took place at the house in the presence of only a few intimate friends. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Davin left for the west on their honeymoon.

An Ottawa telegram says: A report from the minister of justice with regard to the opening of negotiations with Manitoba on the school question has been embodied in an order-in-council, and will, it is expected, be sent to Winnipeg in a few days. It is expected the document will require Manitoba to give a direct reply concerning its position with regard to a compromise, but will say nothing with respect to a commission to inquire into the status of education, past and present, in the province.

In the middle of the county of Grey Ont., frost and drought seem to have fallen with peculiar severity. In the townships of Holland, Sullivan, Bentinck and Glenelg section of the county, about 25 miles square, a few farmers have enough hay to winter a horse and cow, and in many instances grain, grass and roots crops have been completely destroyed by grasshoppers, and a request has been sent to the secretary of state urging the government to get reduced freight rates for the people of Grey, and also to take the duty off corn.

Price Albert Advocate: At a meeting of the town council last night, the estimates for the current year were passed and the rate struck. The amount required for general purposes is $5,720, but there are assets amounting to $3,780 due from tax sale for unpaid taxes, etc., leaving the amount required $1,940; for debentures and sinking fund $2,520; the public school $3,800, and the Roman Catholic school $700. The rate for town purposes is 7 mills, being 3 mills for general purposes and 4 mills for debentures. The public school rates is 7 mills, and the R. C. school rate 1 1/2 mills.

Winnipeg Tribune—"Father Morin, of Montreal, who has been spending a few months in the Edmonton settlements, arrived from the west to-day. He says everything in the Edmonton district is looking well, and denies that the hail storm, as reported, did any damage. Everybody in the country is looking for the most prosperous harvest on record. There are nearly 600 Catholics in the five French settlements, and each settlement has a priest." The report of a hail storm in the Edmonton district is news to the people here. There has been no hail in the Edmonton district this season so far, nor is the district as subject to hail as most other parts of the North-West.

Winnipeg Tribune: As the present crop prospects indicate such an amount of harvesting to be done that the regular supply of harvesters in the country will not be able to handle it, the C. P. R. have instructed their agents throughout the west to receive applications for help. These up to date amount to 2,000, and as at many points there are no agents the number of men required to take off this year's crop will probably not be less than 3,000. To aid in meeting this demand, two excursions will be run from Ontario and Quebec early next month at the rate of $25, with the privilege of paying $10 for Manitoba points and $18 for the return trip.

E. B. Osler, of Osler & Hammond, Toronto, who are the chief men in the C. & E. Company told a reporter that the Hudson's Bay road would never be a rival of the C. P. R., for the reason that it would never be built. If it were built, it would not carry the wheat crop of the Northwest and Manitoba for the simple reason that it would cost too much for it to go that way. It was nothing but a fraud in his judgment. This vote of $20,000 per mile for main subsidy would, he supposed, give a chance for about $250,000 of plunder. The only reason the Canadian Pacific influence was opposed to the Hudson's Bay scheme was because they did not want the credit of Canadian stocks injured in London by such schemes.

The Moose Jaw Times dealing with the shortage in the Northwest owing to relief granted last fall says: "In the light of present knowledge, of course it cannot be denied that the executive made a mistake by assuming any share of responsibility in the case. They made the mistake of acting upon the assumption that they were dealing with an honorable man, whose promise might be relied on. They foolishly thought, because Hon. Mr. Daly said so the money would be paid back. In a word, they innocently supposed they were dealing with a gentleman, while later developments prove that the supposition had absolutely no foundation in fact; so it is abundantly manifest that the executive made a mistake. It was one of those mistakes that lean to the side of virtue."

Quite a startling story in a Montreal special is published in the Toronto World to the effect that Meredith, chief justice here, is to leave the bench and accept a portfolio in the Dominion cabinet and succeed Bowell as premier. It is said the French-Canadians believe that Meredith would adopt a fairer policy on the school question, and the conservatives here would consider him a source of strength to the cabinet. It is said to be likely that Patterson will go out and Meredith take the vacancy created in the Ontario representation. With Girouard for Quebec in the cabinet would be strengthened. One politician said Haggart and Montague would take kindly to the change, and that Haggart did not want to become leader of the conservatives and premier.

The Kansas State Millers' association held its annual convention at Hutchinson on Wednesday and compiled the Kansas millers' estimate of the harvest. Reports are not in from all counties but sufficient returns have been made to indicate 1895 yield of from 6,000,000 to 10,000,000 bushels of wheat in the state; about 40 per cent. of which will be good enough to mill. A committee was appointed with authority to negotiate for an emergency rate from Minnesota, the Dakotas, Oregon, Washington and Utah sufficient to meet the demands of Kansas mills. It is estimated that to keep the leading merchant mills of the state going, from 7,000,000 upward must be imported. A committee was authorized to get at once arranged for the importation of Russian once arrange for the importation of Russian hard winter wheat from the Crimea. All hard winter wheat they have to import wheat throughout the year. They declare that the present state of affairs was never approached, much less paralleled in Kansas.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

A very pleasant and enjoyable time was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hockley on Wednesday evening; the occasion being a farewell tendered to the leader of the E. F. B. B., Mr. O. May, who is about to leave Edmonton for Stonewall. The evening was spent in songs, choruses, cornet duets and solos. Mr. Boyle presided at the organ in his usual masterly style. About 10 p. m. the party sat down to a sumptuous repast, which was generously provided by the hostess, Mrs. Hockley. Mr. Fortin very ably filled the chair, being the same on this occasion as on all others, full of mirth. After justice had been done to the good things provided; the chairman delivered a very eloquent and interesting speech, and called upon the secretary to read the following address:

Edmonton, Alberta, July 31st, 1895.

To OLIVER MAY, Esq., Leader of the E. F. B. Band.

Sir—We, the members of the Edmonton Fire Brigade Band, desire to tender to you our sincere, heartfelt thanks for your services rendered to us individually and collectively as leader of the band. We regret exceedingly that you have decided to sever your connection with us and leave our town, but we trust that you will find your prospective engagement in Stonewall beneficial in every way. However, wherever you may be we can assure you that you will always have the regard and good wishes of those whom you have been so closely associated with here. Signed on behalf of the Edmonton Fire Brigade Band.

W. S. EDMONTON, Pres.
F. D. FORTIN, Vice
R. HOCKLEY, Sec.

The address was accompanied by a present as a small token of the high esteem in which the leader was held by all the members of the band. Very appropriate and interesting speeches were delivered by several members of the band and some ex-members, who were present by special request. After singing the usual doxology on such occasions the party broke up at 12:30 a. m., all being well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

An Omaha, Nebraska, telegram of July 26th says: "The Union Pacific headquarters were notified at 8:30 to-night by the company's superintendent at Pocatello, Idaho, of the receipt of a telegram from the Union Pacific agent at Market Lake to the effect that Jackson's Hole settlers had been murdered by the Indians, their stock killed and their homes burned. The agent declares that the information is perfectly reliable."

THE HALF BREEDS.

The following letter may be admitted as evidence on the question raised by the Calgary Herald as to the Half breeds of Lac la Biche and other places:

FORT WILLIAM, 23rd July 1895.

To the editor of the BULLETIN of Edmonton.

MY DEAR MR. OLIVER: I see in one of your last issues that you have remarked the attack and insult of the "Herald" of Calgary, against the half breeds of Lac la Biche in particular and the whole nation in general. As a friend of these people, in my name and in the name of the half breeds, I thank you for your justice and fair play. One day or another, you will not regret what you have done in behalf of people, who once happy and good, are to-day for a majority in a state of poverty and want, for the circumstances through which they have passed. I remain very sincerely, Mr. Editor,

Yours truly,
FATHER A. LACOMBE,
O. M. I.

The patrons of industry of Manitoba are importing 600,000 pounds of binder twine this season.
